

College welcomes Prospectus for New Professional Body

The College welcomes the Prospectus for the New Professional Body for pharmacy, which has been published today (28th November) and is available on the TransCom website <http://www.transitionalcommittee.com/prospectus.html>

All current members of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society should already have received a personal copy by post. College members are encouraged to feed back their views using the form at the end of the printed copy or the online version at <http://www.transitionalcommittee.com/feedback.html>

For further details of the College's involvement in the development of the New Professional Body, see the leaflet distributed with the November edition of the College Newsletter, which College members should also receive today.
